Forecast for Sunday 16 Jun 2024

Weather: Largely dry with sunny spells for most during today. However, a risk of isolated showers developing, with a low risk of these being heavy and thundery. The showers will tend to ease during the afternoon, however further light to moderate showers moving into the north of the Park during the evening, towards midnight.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 60% improving to 90% during the morning, then decreasing to 60% again during the evening.

Low Cloud and visibility: Areas of cloud with base around 500-600m at first. However, bases lifting largely above summits during the morning, although some patches may linger on the highest summits, especially in any heavier showers. Generally very good visibility outside showers, with brief reductions in showers, and very poor in any low cloud covering the hills. Areas of cloud with base 500-600m arriving in the north of the Park during the evening.

Meteorologist's View

High UV levels will give a risk of sunburn in longer sunny spells. Cool temperatures at height will give a noticeable chill despite the time of year. Low risk of isolated thundery showers, perhaps with lightning.

Forecast for Monday 17 Jun 2024

Weather: Occasional showers overnight and continuing through the morning, before easing in the afternoon. The odd one could be heavy during the morning. However, there will also be some sunny spells in-between. High UV levels are possible once again.

Maximum wind: West 15mph gusts 20-25mph.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 30% improving to 80%.

Low Cloud and visibility: Widespread cloud with base 500-600m overnight and during the morning. However, bases lifting largely above summits into the afternoon, although some patches may linger on the higher summits, especially in any heavier showers. Generally very good visibility outside showers, with brief reductions in showers, and very poor in any low cloud covering the hills.

Temperature: Valleys: Plus 7 Celsius, rising to Plus 16 Celsius
At 800m: Plus 8 Celsius
Freezing level: Above summits.
